

Reinholds: Missionaries to Mexico

Opposition VS Proposition

Earlier in the year a proposal was made to bring the medical team called “Alcansando mi Gente” (Reaching my People) to a community called Metlatonoc in the mountains of Guerrero.

This group consist of 70 doctors and workers. They perform medical, dental, emotional and spiritual support to indigenous groups that have little access or funds to receive them. The proposal was made to a mayor who gave the invitation to come. When it came time for the trip late November, another mayor had taken his place. Upon arriving and setting up we learned that this new mayor took offence to us being there because the invitation was given by another political party. This hasn't been the first opposition we've had, but given it was by the mayor it was somewhat different. The mayor began sending vehicles with loudspeakers around the community announcing that the medical brigade had been postponed till a later date and time. When we learned this was happening, we immediately began to pray that the Lord would intercede and send people anyway. A normal campaign normally yields over a thousand appointments. This one, we were expecting much more. So, despite the opposition, I am happy to announce that at the end of two and a half days we had over 1900 appointments fulfilled. Over 700 passed through the soul clinic where we deal with the individuals emotional and spiritual need after they see the doctors. Over 530 made professions of faith 14 of whom were the police who were guarding us as well as three doctors and nurses on the team. Praise the Lord for he is the one who rewards the efforts of his people and has control over the opposition. We thank you for your faithful prayers and support that allows us to participate in this fruitful ministry.
